

Downtown Nairobi.

they don't use them for food. The Masai warrior will walk fearlessly among the wild animals as he tends his cattle. They will, however, slit the throat of the cattle, drain the blood, pour it into some milk and drink it.

And speaking of food, Deer said that the food on the trip was excellent. "Most lodges served a six or seven course dinner every night. You always had soup, appetizers and a main course. We ate a lot of fish, vegetables and papaya wine was served a lot. I thought it was terrible, though. And even though the soup was supposed to be a different one each night, they all tasted the same to me.

"The beef was mostly stringy because the cattle is grass fed. But we did have one dinner of filet that was very good. We drank a lot of soft drinks because it was not safe to drink the water."

Most places served a national dish which was like a yam or sweet potato. "I didn't think it was as good as the rest of the food they served. And we always had fresh

Continued on Page 4

This rhino grazing lazily is oblivious to passersby who are anxious to snap his photo.

Kenya Safari itinerary

The following itinerary indicates how much time was spent at each game reserve during the 1,500 mile safari inside Kenya.

- 1st day - Leave Detroit.
- 2nd day - Spend the day in London.
- 3rd day - Spend the day in Nairobi.
- 4th day - Travel to Masai Mara/Northern Serengeti, pass through Great Rift Valley.
- 5th day - Masi-Mara game country.
- 6th day - Masi-Mara, Mara reserve.
- 7th day - Mayers Ranch, Lake Naivasha, a bird paradise.
- 8th day - Crescent Island, Samburu Game Reserve.
- 9th day - Samburu Game Reserve.
- 10th day - Mt. Kenya Safari Club, made world famous by William Holden.
- 11th day - Amboseli/Mt. Kilimanjaro National Park where the big five animals are to be viewed, the elephant, lion, leopard, buffalo and rhino.
- 12th day - Amboseli/Mt. Kilimanjaro.
- 13th day - Tsavo West.
- 14th day - Tsavo West.
- 15th day - Nairobi.
- 16th day - Nairobi.
- 17th day - Enroute home.